“Leading Design
Hotel”, is a perfect example of the end-product of our design process.

Inspired by yachting design, and using delicate touches like naval teak throughout, this concept brings the tranquillity of a luxury cruise to suites overlooking the magnificent views of Lake Lugano.

The nautical concept is carried over to the restaurant, ensuring that the illusion is never broken.

In 2017, The View received the World Luxury Spa award for the best “Luxury Boutique Spa” in Western Europe.

Stretching over 1000 square meters, it comprises a Himalayan Salt Room, Kneipp circuit, saunas, Turkish baths, indoor pool, vitality pool, state of the art Technogym fitness room, and Swiss made signature treatments.

Chandolin Boutique Hotel is a holistic expression of Alpine luxury housed in a Swiss grand chalet, filled with bespoke furnishings.

Natural stone and aged oak parquet flooring in the restaurant sets the tone for understated interior which emphasizes the natural setting of the hotel.

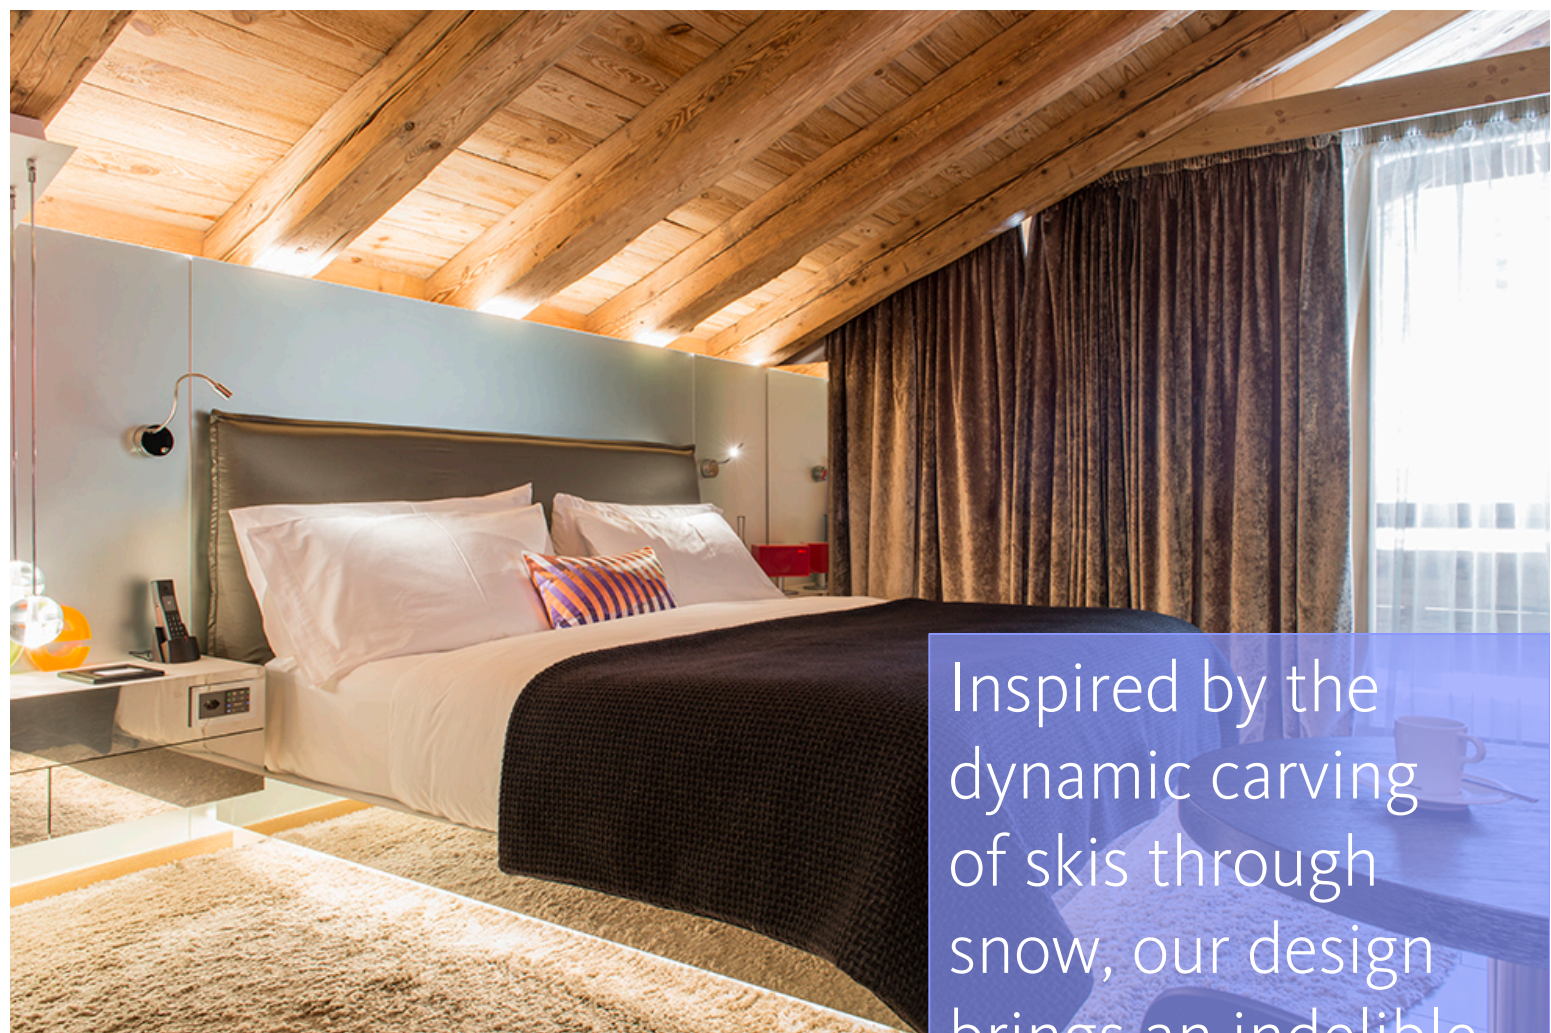

Earthy color palettes in communal areas—with warmer beiges in rooms and suites—are complemented by firewood detailing and unpolished stonework. Large windows ensure the Alpine-chic spaces are illuminated by natural light.

The W Verbier is W Hotels' first alpine hotel. 123 rooms and 7 suites come together in a confluence of daring design and a sophisticated scene.

Inspired by the dynamic carving of skis through snow, our design brings an indelible, distinct New York City glamour to this ski resort in the Swiss Alps.

The Lausanne Palace, is the Swiss hotel par excellence. Often cited as one of the best hotels in Switzerland, it combines luxury and savoir-vivre.

The use of marble and pastels reflect the serenity of the surrounding Lac Lemman. Our goal was to create an inviting yet palatial environment for people to meet and unwind.

Kempinski Istria,

surrounded by picturesque olive groves and vineyards, our design for this secluded paradise uses simple colours and honest spaces.

The Henry Morgan presidential suite's décor embodies understated and refined elegance. The glossy contemporary white furniture reflects the abundant light coming through the numerous glass walls.

The Jure Grando Presidential suite makes use of a "night" motif, contrasting with the natural light. Its 548 sq.m terrace gives out on the Adriatic Sea.
